After more than 20 years of classic car dealing and wheeling I must admit that I have been very fortunate being able to own, drive and enjoy the most extraordinary and exclusive classic cars of this world. However, the most relaxed fun was when I sat at the wheel of a Morris Minor Convertible steering her quietly on a sunny day along the countryside lanes...! Life can be soooooo easy! When I found in the UK this charming light blue, fully restored Morris Minor Convertible, I was immediately in love with her. With the intention to keep this low milage Morris Minor for himself a specialist coachbuilder in Warwickshire restored her to showroom condition regardless of costs and effort. Very few enthusiasts do this sort of exercise on a Morris Minor, because there is no economic logic in it. But in this case, because the owner was in the trade and because he had the firm intention to keep this car in the family, the Morris Minor was treated to a genuine 'nut and bolt' complete restoration. After having just been sitting there in her garage for 15 years and not being used at all; I was the lucky guy who could buy this beauty and bring this immaculate Morris Minor Convertible over to Belgium. Only this week, the weather cleared-up a little bit and allowed me to take in between some early springtime showers this Morris Minor for a test-drive. Well, I can't wait for the weather to clear-up further and now already I am dreaming of the summer. You also? Well, just contact me and I'll guarantee you a big smile on your face and on the faces of the people which will see you behind her steering wheel.
