Aston Martin DB MKIII

1958

Galerie

I am not the only sportscar enthusiast who thinks the DB MKIII is the nicest of the Feltham produced Aston Martins. Of the less than 500 produced approx. 350 were fabricated in LHD. But because, as with any Aston Martin model, the total numbers were small, these LHD versions are highly sought after by the continental Aston Martin enthusiasts. I am sure the attraction will be even greater when one realises this particular DB MKIII offered here for sale is an original French car (speedo in Kms)! Presented in 'California Sage', the period Aston Martin racing green, combined with nicely patinated leather interior and wire wheels in dark red, this Aston looks "the business". As a matter of fact, she absolutely is! Previously very well maintained by an experienced Aston Martin workshop in France, inspecting this stylish Aston Martin now reveals nothing but good surprises. Main impressions are: - Excellent straight aluminium body. - Totally overhauled engine. These good impressions are also fully confirmed when road testing this DB MKIII. After recent 'wild' auction prices in Newport Pagnell and Monaco, this quality European DB MKIII offered here for sale by our Brussels area based specialised classic car workshop must be a safe and enjoyable classic car investment.
