BMW 327 Convertible 1938 LHD Often classic car friends have told me that the BMW 327 must be one of the best all-round prewar classics to choose. It is true that the build quality of the immediate prewar BMW 's was very renowned. Not only for the body, but also for the mechanics. Add to this the elegant styling, the excellent comfort for driver and passenger, the very reasonable size and weight, the excellent performances from the 6 cylinder 2 liter, the superb road dynamics and... you have a "winner"! Sold new on the 24-th of August 1938, according to the attestation of BMW's Mobile Tradition departement, to a Mr. Müller from Düsseldorf, this BMW ended-up in France after the II-nd WW. The car had some successive owners in the south and was for more than 16 years part of the collection of an entusiast French classic car fanatic from Avignon. Having enjoyed and treasured his BMW 327 all these years, and finalising recently a complete no-expences-spared restoration on the car, he now feels that he is more attracted to the postwar classics from his little collection. Your chance to acquire a well documented, fully restored, genuine BMW 327 Convertible in tip-top condition.
