Alvis TD21 Coupé Alvo 1961 LHD Who from now and then does not feel a bit rebellion and wants to jump out of the queue of well behaving classic car owners? For those who feel challenged, I have the perfect low profile "hooligan" classic. On first sight it is an Alvis TD21 Coupé, but a closer look reveals it is an "Alvo" or should I say "Volvis", because this Alvis TD21 was upgraded with Volvo mechanics. - Volvo B230 FT engine with Turbo developing 180+bhp (fully renovated incl turbo). Considered as one of the most robust Volvo Turbo engines. Produced in 1983 and 1984 in Volvo 200 and 700 series. - Volvo M47 gearbox: 4 speed + OD (overhauled) - Power steering , Lhd - Brakes: Front: ventilated discs with 4 pot calipers. Rear: discs with 2 pot calipers. Hydraulic brake servo from Audi Quattro For better comfort, modern Air Conditionning was fitted and a more comfortable leather interior from the Saab 900 Convertible. The hint that this Alvis is in fact a wolf in sheepsclothes is given away by the centre lock light alloy wheels and the Aston Martin style vents in the front GRP wings. The tow-bar with a 1500 kg max load spec is mainly there to put a smile on the face of everyone who has just has been overtaken by this Alvo-Volvis. Alternatively this specific Alvis TD21 Coupé might just be the perfect tow-car to trail your competition sports car to go historic racing! As you can see from the photos this Alvis is in excellent fully restored and sorted condition. Guaranteed a permanent grim on your face when driving this beast!
