Fiat Topolino 500C Furgoncino 1952 LHD This Topolino Furgoncino has to be the most charming little utility-van in the world! Don't you agree? Based on the 2-door sedan, a 3-door Giardinetta was developped and also a practical and no-nonsense little utility-van (in Italian: Furgoncino). This Furgoncino belonged for many years to my Italian friend Giovanni who produced typical Tuscan salumi. He owned this charming Furgoncino just for fun and publicity reasons. That is good enough reason to make sure his Topolino was in excellent fully restored condition, which it still is today. I have driven this Fiat Topolino around a bit and yes, I got noticed and yes, it was great fun. A feel good classic which brings a smile on everybody's face!
